Interesting that these are guidelines – wonder what prompted that decision? Has the review process for guidelines made less onerous?

Also, guess we need to read these to see if there are impacts on EPA's use of dose addition.

Subject: CRA Planning and Problem Formulation Guidelines, Final Draft for RAF review

Good Afternoon CRA Technical Panel Members:

Thank you for your comments on the CRA Planning and Problem Formulation Guidelines. I've attached the final draft, which is being shared with the RAF Chair and Vice Chair, who will initiate the RAF's internal panel review process.

Please contact me, or Lawrence, if you have any questions.

Thank you for your commitment to this important work.
